Three teenagers describe the summer camp they went to

Joe

This was my first summer camp and I was a bit scared about going, but I soon made friends with a boy called Henry, so everything was fine. We shared a tent and one night we went out into the forest and spent the night under the stars! There were lots of sports activities available at the camp, but I wanted to do something different and did an art project in the main hall most days. It was an awesome week but there was no Wi-Fi, so I couldn't use my tablet.

Mark

I've been to a few summer camps but this year's was the best. We stayed in a house by a lake and we sailed, swam and water-skied every day. I've only done water-skiing a few times, so it was a bit scary. But I was still glad I did it. When I got home, I went onto the camp's website and wrote about how much I loved my week there and how everyone should go at least once.

Kevin

I always enjoy going to summer camp and this year I stayed in a fantastic, old house in the mountains. I couldn't believe the views – the place was amazing. We had the internet there but I stupidly went without my phone! I was quite lucky I suppose because the only time I missed it was when I wanted to tell my family about the running competition I entered. We had to run twenty kilometres, and I wasn't very fit at the time, so I didn't think I'd do well.

Part 3

Questions 14 – 18

For each question, choose the correct answer.

My hobby – skateboarding

14-year-old Ellie Briggs talks about skateboarding

Skateboarding wasn't popular where I lived when I was younger, which is strange, because there was a good local skateboard shop. But one day, I was walking home from school with my friends, and a boy went past us on his skateboard. I loved the way he moved on the board, and decided to try the sport myself.

Of course, I was very bad at skateboarding when I started, but there are many ways to learn. My cousin says he learned from going to the skatepark and seeing what everyone was doing, but it was the videos that skateboarders post on the internet that were most useful for me.

Even the best skateboarders fall off their boards. And when you're learning a new jump, you fall off lots of times. What's important, when it happens, is that you don't hurt yourself. That's something other people can show you how to do.

I love skateboarding. My parents are happy about me doing it, too, because I spend lots of time outdoors and take part in competitions. The best thing for me is all the friends I have at the skatepark. I've met some really nice people there.

Last week, I saw a man going to work on an electric skateboard. I was interested to know more, so I found some online reviews. People say they're simple to ride and really useful, but I couldn't believe the price. They'll have to get a lot cheaper before I get one!

- 14 How did Ellie become interested in skateboarding?
- A She had friends who liked skateboarding.
 - B She lived near a shop which sold skateboards.
 - C She saw someone skateboarding in the street.
- 15 Ellie got better at skateboarding by
- A watching online videos.
 - B getting help from a family member.
 - C copying what people at the skatepark did.
- 16 What does Ellie say about falling off your board?
- A You have to stop falling to become really good.
 - B You need to learn to fall in a safe way.
 - C You fall less if you have a good board.
- 17 What does Ellie like most about skateboarding?
- A being outside
 - B making friends
 - C doing competitions
- 18 What does Ellie think of electric skateboards?
- A They're easy to use.
 - B They're OK for adults.
 - C They're too expensive.

Part 4
